NEWS

From the Editor Desk

I'm thrilled to introduce the inaugural edition of Exclusive World Records, a groundbreaking new publication comprehensively documenting the planet's most astonishing achievements.

Our journey began in 2019 when our founder, Lata Khatwani, had the visionary idea to create an unparalleled authority on world records that would captivate minds by meticulously verifying and chronicling the most amazing human accomplishments globally. What started from humble beginnings has rapidly grown into an organization with representatives in over 20 countries.

The COVID-19 pandemic emerged during our formative years, presenting unique obstacles. However, our teams persevered, adapting with resilience and innovative safety protocols to continue vetting record claims responsibly. We witnessed inspiring displays of human determination, including performances and virtual events that creatively overcame the constraints of that challenging period.

Using a smaller font size to condense five years of data into a compact book is a practical approach to make it accessible for a wider audience. It ensures that the book remains manageable and affordable for readers while still providing comprehensive information.

As we emerge from this era with rekindled spirits of exploration and discovery, our researchers have been meticulously curating this landmark first edition. Covering the years 2019 through 2023, it contains the most comprehensive and astounding collection of world records, honors, and awards data available today across every imaginable category.

Sincerely,

Anurag Saxena
